Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 72-79 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The closest prior art (US 6,078,866) Buck et al. discloses subscribers listings being assigned to appropriate categories when the user inputs a selection of categories of interest with resulting listings found are ranked according to their subscription fee values and the improved ranking is likely to lead to more click throughs so the subscriber can gradually improve the value of the listing commensurate with the actual response level of the users to the listing. Buck et al. did not disclose the advertiser entering a new search listing or changing the maximum CPC of a search listing with the account management server operative to adjust the CPC of the advertiser's search listing to maintain the desired rank, adjust the CPC of the advertiser's search listing to move the search listing.

Singhal (US 6,370,527) discloses a search engine with the compilation and ranking based primarily on the occurrence of search terms or related search terms in the titles and summaries but can be based on relative weights given to each search engine. Singhal did not disclose the advertiser entering a new search listing or changing the maximum CPC of a search listing with the account management server operative to adjust the CPC of the advertiser's search listing to maintain the desired rank, adjust the CPC of the advertiser's search listing to move the search listing.

Tim Jackson, "Cash is the key to a true portal: Goto.com has found a way to make searching profitable in itself in a radical departure from the service of other sites engines provide; [:London Edition]" discloses. Internet searches where keywords are typed in to get back a list of searches where keywords are typed in to get back a list of web sites but make money from advertising or other activities with the company offering the highest price being listed first. Tim Jackson, "Cash is the key to a true portal: Goto.com has found a way to make searching profitable in itself in a radical departure from the service of other sites engines provide; [:London Edition]" did not disclose the advertiser entering a new search listing or changing the maximum CPC of a search listing with the account management server operative to adjust the CPC of the advertiser's search listing to maintain the desired rank, adjust the CPC of the advertiser's search listing to move the search listing.

Other Relevant prior Art

Jeff Peline, "Pay-for-Placement gets another shot"; Barber (US 5,930,777); Howard et al. (US 6,278,966); and Ryan et al. (US 6,421,675).

An extensive search was performed and no better prior art was found.

For these reasons claim 72 is deemed allowable over the prior art of record and claims 73-79 are allowed by dependency.

It appears that the instant invention is beyond the skill of one of ordinary art. Accordingly the invention would NOT have been obvious because one of ordinary skill could not have been expected to achieve it. NOR would they have been able to predict the results, and as such, they would have not capability of expecting success.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
